9 days, 10 nights

Delhi - Manali - Leh

Ladakh - Leh - Manali - Delhi

You're not going to be bothered here, because phones with only BSNL and Airtel networks work in Spiti whereas only Postpaid services work in Ladakh.

ROAD TRIP TO THE PARADISE OF INDIA

The Only adrenaline thumping backpacking trip

It is believed that even if you click a picture in Ladakh blindfolded, it will turn out to be a viral Instagram one. Such is the beauty of Ladakh.

An enchanting land with lakes that reflect the diamonds from their surfaces, valleys unexplored by human beings, peaceful monasteries hanging on every cliff.

A destination loved by backpackers, hikers and families alike, mountain passes that are probably the highest in the world and people, the warmest, await you this summer.

Day 1

The Arrival DELHI - MANALI

Enjoy a scenic drive to Manali in the night. A leisurely drive from NCR, with comfortable stopover, takes about 9 hours by road. On your arrival in the morning, you shall be welcomed with breakfast after checking in at the hotel. We'll have enough time to absorb the mountains and acclimatise and chill the rest of the evening with some famous Cafe exploration and leisure time.

Day 2

Snowy Hills Fiesta MANALI - ROHTANG LA - LEH

We will start out as early as 5 am from Manali crossing Rohtang Pass and entering Lahaul in Himachal. It's criminal to not have steamy hot Maggie in icy cold Rohtang La. Our Journey today will end midway in Sarchu. We'll check in into the hotel have the evening to ourselves. Brace yourself with bonfire, networking session and crispy snacks.

Pangong Tso, the 4th largest natural lake in India, is famous for changing colors - ranging from shades of blue to green to even red.

Day 3

White Hills Fiesta MANALI - ROHTANG LA - LEH

Straight out from Sarchu, we will be taking another long journey covering Tanglang La, Pang. Gata Loops to reach the biggest town in Ladakh, known as Leh. Leh hosts the Sangam of the Indus and Zaskar Rivers and one of the largest monasteries in all of Asia. Today we will be resting as our Ladakh journey starts tomorrow.

Day 4

Acclimatise EXPLORING LEH

Our journey as a Nomad starts today. First out after breakfast we will be heading to do some wild water rafting in Zaskar. The activity is optional and can be opted for directly on the spot. We will be covering Indus-Zaskar Sangam, Shanti Stupa, Magnetic Hill and Offbeat Monasteries of Ladakh like Thikse and Hemis today. After Leh's local exploration, we will be exploring Leh's marketplace for some café crawls followed by Dinner at the hotel.

Day 5

The Mountain Desert LEH - NUBRA

Within Ladakh lies the infamous and the offbeat Nubra Valley which in real terms is the Cold Mountain 'Desert' consisting of endless cold sand towards the horizon and Bactrian camels with their double humps giving a ride to the traders for centuries. We will be reaching Nubra through one of the highest motorable roads on the planet Khardung La and will be exploring the world's highest maggi/tea point with some time spent in the gorgeous Diskit Monastery. Dinner will be served piping hot at our swiss camps followed by some fire and music.

Day 6

Top of The World NUBRA - PANGONG

Within Ladakh lies the infamous and the offbeat Nubra Valley which in real terms is the Cold Mountain 'Desert' consisting of endless cold sand towards the horizon and Bactrian camels with their double humps giving a ride to the traders for centuries. We will be reaching Nubra through one of the highest motorable roads on the planet Khardung La and will be exploring the world's highest maggi/tea point with some time spent in the gorgeous Diskit Monastery. Dinner will be served piping hot at our swiss camps followed by some fire and music.

The Bactrian camel is a large, even-toed ungulate native. It has two humps on its back, in contrast to the single-humped dromedary camel, they are rare compared to single hump camels. These camels are one of the main attraction of the Nubra valley in Ladakh.

Day 7

The Night Sky LADAKH - LEH

On the way back to Leh from Pangong, we will also cover a couple more monasteries and practically end our Ladakh tour. Rest of the day post lunch will be on leisure and we will be exploring the night life of leh with some introspection and 'me' time. Dinner will be at the hotel followed by games and socializing.

Day 8

Admiring The Hills LEH - JISPA

Today we will head back to Lahaul and checking in at Jispa after a day's journey passing through the high altitude passes of Tanglang La and Baralacha La. Jispa is a beautiful town in Lahaul and serves as a decent crash pad for our day's end with a view from every corner. Dinner will be at our Swiss Camps.

Day 9

Good Bye JISPA - MANALI - DELHI

Within 6 hours, we will reach Manali and can use the day to explore Old Manali or just at the riverside to disburse the day. Catch your Volvo at night or stay or explore more, it's upto you.
